

Ms. Sala joined our school in 2022 as a second grade educator. She is currently the Vice Principal of Lower School at CCA and is slated to be the Principal of the Cornerstone Wildlight campus in 2027. She is originally from Maryland and earned a Bachelor's Degree at Towson University in Elementary Education. Then in 2019 she moved down to Florida to teach in Nassau County while completing her Masters Degree at American College of Education in Educational Leadership with a concentration in behavioral management. Other teaching experience includes teaching in inner city Baltimore, instructing at an international school for refugees, facilitating instruction for CCA's reading/ literacy essentials curriculum for new and current teachers, and grade level chair for the second grade team. Furthermore, she is endorsed in reading and classical education in the state of Florida and has spoken on behalf of the governor to encourage curricula that does not instill ideologies and hidden agendas. She is committed to fostering a learning environment where students can encounter truth, goodness, and beauty to develop a lifelong love of learning. Inspired by the classical model, Ms. Sala seeks to guide scholars in the pursuit of knowledge and the development of critical thinking skills, enabling them to become articulate, well-reasoned, and virtuous individuals. She lives in Fernandina Beach where she loves being outside, enjoying the beautiful sunshine, and is an active member in her church.
